Pastor's Corner

-“Hey Father, when you answered God’s call, did you ever think you’d have a finance committee, that you’d work on bookkeeping and that you’d administrate such a big facility? Pay bills, plan expansion, deal with insurance, liability, and emergency calls for repairs and possible disasters?”
-“Nope! Not a thought beyond offering Mass, hearing confessions and teaching the Faith!”
-“Well... Surprise!!!”

Dear Parishioners,

Part of my ministry and trying to be a good steward goes beyond the scope of things spiritual (that's the easy part!) and unto things temporal (the not so easy part). I must ensure to the best of my ability that the temporal goods God has blessed us with are looked after and properly managed. I would like to thank the finance committee for all their hard work and their essential help in assisting with this task!

We are beginning today to add a quarterly income and expense statement as a way of communicating a truer picture of the financial position of our parish. While the weekly bulletin shows the offertory and provides a way to show if we are on track with our budgeted income, it does not allow a way to highlight any unusual expenses we incur that might create a deficit.

A building ages and falls apart on its own! For instance, we had a waterline break disaster in July with an unexpected plumbing expense of $10,000 which may or may not be covered by insurance. Good news is we are still showing an operating surplus for the first quarter.

In the Capital Improvement account, we are showing a deficit. Keep in mind the expenses for the final payment for the parking lot and roof were actually budgeted last fiscal year and paid this quarter, so we are still on track!

Thanks to your generosity with your donations to the poor box and St. Bernadette fund, we have been able to help several families in our parish in very difficult circumstances and trials. May God reward you!

Thank you for your continued generosity to keep St. Joseph solvent.
